PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

BS Information Technology graduate specializing in full-stack web development with applied application-security tooling. Built WebSecureX, a fully functional distributed vulnerability scanning platform combining a Node.js/Express frontend with a Python/FastAPI orchestration backend, integrating industry-standard scanners (SQLMap, NoSQLMap, XSStrike) with real-time scan streaming via SSE. Comfortable across the stack — JWT authentication, MongoDB schema design, REST API integration — with a specific interest in secure-by-design application architecture.

TECHNICAL EXPERTISE

- Web & Backend: Node.js, Express, Python (FastAPI), HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript (ES6+), REST APIs, Server-Sent Events (SSE)
- Programming & Logic: C++, Python, Object-Oriented Programming (OOP), Data Structures & Algorithms (DSA)
- Databases & Storage: MongoDB (Mongoose), SQL / MySQL, Data Modeling, Schema & Query Optimization
- Security & Tools: Vulnerability Testing (SQLi, XSS, NoSQLi, SSL/TLS), JWT Authentication, Git/GitHub, VS Code

KEY TECHNICAL PROJECTS

WebSecureX — Automated Web Vulnerability & Security Scanner | Node.js, Express, FastAPI, MongoDB, SSE

- Engineered a fully functional distributed security audit platform (dev environment), combining a Node.js/Express frontend (JWT auth, MongoDB persistence) with an asynchronous Python/FastAPI backend orchestrator communicating via REST APIs
- Implemented live scan-log streaming over Server-Sent Events (SSE), enabling real-time visibility into scan progress without polling
- Integrated and orchestrated subprocess-driven vulnerability scanners (SQLMap, NoSQLMap, XSStrike) with automated HTML report generation
- Built routine scan scheduling to support recurring, unattended vulnerability checks
